WEATHER REPORT

Rain today; cloudy and colder to-night.

NEW HIGH RECORD

At the Central Warehouse For Any Market—Fifty-five Cents Per Pound Is Realized.

The Central warehouse yesterday sold a basket of tobacco for 55 cents a pound. This tobacco was grown by Grover and Ingram of Sardis, and makes a new high record price for the Maysville market, and we believe it is the highest price paid this season on any market in the state.

The previous high record was also made by the Central on a basket at 40 cents, sold last week for Clem Storer.

UNCLE BOB TAKEN TO EAST END.

Yesterday afternoon the fire fighting machine Uncle Bob was taken to the East End and placed in the Planters warehouse on Forest avenue, where it will remain until the danger of a flood is past. Fireman Andy Reed and George Duley have charge of the machine at their temporary headquarters. Mr. Henry Newell is acting as fireman at Company No. 1 headquarters while the two are away.

AGED PHYSICIAN DIES.

Ashland, Ky.—Dr. J. W. Martin, for more than 60 years a practicing physician here, died at his home here. He was 86 years old.

Mrs. Susie Ennis, who has been seriously sick at the home of her parents on Lexington street, is getting along as well as could be expected.

BRING IT TO MAYSVILLE

Which Is the Best Loose Leaf Tobacco Market In the World.

The Owingsville Utolook says: Some of the Bath county tobacco growers who shipped their tobacco to the Mt. Sterling market last week became so dissatisfied with prices and other conditions that they hauled their crops home.

TAKING LOCATION, AVERAGE PRICES, ROOM AND FACILITIES FOR CARING FOR TOBACCO, THE GROWERS AND THEIR TEAMS, MAYSVILLE IS NOW CONCEDED BY BOTH BUYERS AND SELLERS, TO BE THE BEST ALL-AROUND LOOSE LEAF TOBACCO MARKET IN THE WORLD.

THEFORE, BRING YOUR TOBACCO TO MAYSVILLE.

FORGER AT WORK.

S. S. Abrahams, a slick individual from Cincinnati, got away with a little of the coin of several local merchants early in the week. Among the victims was Mr. Sam Alper of the firm of Galanty & Alper, who was touched up for $15, the Star Clothing House for $5, and the Central Hotel for $25. He used the firm name of McElvain, Humphrey & Knox of this city to secure the money. He registered at the Central Hotel as D. Davis, and also passed one of his checks under that name.

MISS RORABACK TO SPEAK.

Miss Grace Roraback, field agent for the Woman's Home Missionary Society, who is spending this week addressing meetings in Covington and suburbs, will be the speaker for next Sunday's Epworth League meeting at the Third Street M. E. church. A fine meeting is promised. The League always has a big attendance and it is expected that the room will be crowded to hear this eloquent speaker.

VOTE SELLERS FINED.

Pikeville, Ky.—Seven persons were convicted, four were acquitted and charges against three were dismissed in the process of trying 1,100 persons who have been indicted for alleged election frauds. The jury was unable to agree in another case.

FIFTY-THREE FEET

IS THE HIGH MARK EXPECTED IN PRESENT RISE AT MAYSVILLE.

River Now Fifty Feet and Rising Two Inches Per Hour.

CREST OF RISE MAY BE REACHED TOMORROW NIGHT.

The Ohio river is expected to reach 53 feet here by tomorrow night, unless rains follow above.

Fifty feet this morning at 9 o'clock and rising two inches per hour.

(Thursday's Times-Star.)

"The Ohio river will pass the danger line at Cincinnati—50 feet—early Friday morning and will continue to rise until a stage of 54 or 55 feet is reached. The crest will arrive here Saturday night." This is the forecast of Weather Forecaster Devereaux Thursday, and means that Cincinnati soon will be subjected to its first 1915 freshet. In all the low points of the city there was great activity during the early morning hours. Business houses in the "bottoms," whose cellars are flooded at a stage of 50 feet, put all hands to work moving goods out of reach of the climbing waters. In residence sections affected by the water, weights were placed on floatable property, fences were tied down and cellars were cleared. Johnboats and home-made craft were cleaned and caulked and preparations made for a siege of inundation. A stage of 50 feet puts the water over the siding tracks in the Union Central depot and 53 or 54 feet covers the main tracks and stops traffic.

The river is rising at the rate of 2 of a foot an hour. Although the river is falling at Pittsburgh, the Ohio continues to rise at all other points above Cincinnati.

Rise in the Ohio river has caused a number of residents in the extreme west end of Newport to move their belongings to second floors.

The Homer Smith, $85,000 excursion boat, just completed at Howard's Shipyards, left Louisville for Pt. Pleasant, W. Va.

High water in the Ohio has interfered considerably with navigation between Evansville and Pittsburgh, and several boats are tied up at various points.

MAJOR A. T. WOOD DEAD

Was Federal Pension Agent For Kentucky For Nine Years—Recognized Leader of Republicans.

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—Major Andrew T. Wood, former United States Pension Agent at Louisville, and one of the best known Republicans in Kentucky, died at his home here after a lingering illness of general debility.

He was 80 years old. He is survived by three children, James P. Wood and W. Hoffman Wood and Mrs. G. N. Cox, all of this city. Two brothers, the Rev. T. J. Wood of Fleming county, and William Wood of Bath county, also survive him.

Major Wood was well known in this city and for many years attended the Union soldiers' reunions at Maysville.

He was a relative of Mrs. Anna Peel and Mr. Thomas L. Ewan of this city.

SUIT FILED IN CIRCUIT COURT.

Yesterday in the Mason Circuit Court E. C. Henderson, through his attorney, J. M. Collins, filed suit against U. G. Adams for $172,80, with interest at 6 per cent from March 1, 1914, said amount being due on a note, and for $152,08, for merchandise bought from the plaintiff, and for all costs and other general and proper relief.

An attachment on a crop of tobacco was issued.

ROOM AND A WELCOME TO U. S. A.

"A Place In the Sun."

"The German's 'place in the sun' is America.—Courier Journal."

"With slight expense, no fighting and small hardship, a sixth as many Germans as live in the Fatherland—more than a third as many, Mr. Bartholdt says—have gained this place in the sun. They have been welcomed, not opposed, have prospered exceedingly, have been a force of great good in their new home, have had a part in government which they could not have in the Fatherland until after a revolution."

"The place in the sun has lots of room. If all the Germans in the world were collected in the sunny state of Texas it would hardly be more thickly settled than Germany is now."—St. Louis Post-Ditpatch.

And Texas is only one of many states in America in which there is room, and a warm welcome, for every German who seeks his place in the sun instead of remaining at home, bound to fight as a conscript for the Hohenzollern family and the militaristic-aristocratic ring which wants the sun itself, and not merely a place in its radiance.

Never before have Germans in America had greater cause than they now have for being glad that they sought opportunity in America instead of remaining in a king-ruled, class-ridden, tax-ridden, "adequately-prepared" country, whose peace must necessarily be as precarious as the life of a man sitting upon an open powder keg smoking a cigar.

Never in the history of the world has there been offered for peaceful conquest territory so large and rich as that to which all Germans wanting their place in the sun have been, are and will be invited by America. * * *

Surely every ambitious, industrious German's "place in the sun" is where the only shadow that falls upon sunny field and busy factories is that of the Stars and Stripes.—Courier-Journal.

"LOCAL OPTION IS A FAILURE," SAYS MRS. BEAUCHAMP.

"We are satisfied that local option is a failure," said Mrs. Frances Beauchamp, state president of the W. C. T. U.

"We do not intend hereafter to recognize any movement short of state wide prohibition in the regulation of the liquor traffic."

"I am for Mr. Newman for Governor, because of his state wide prohibition position, and we intend to have a speaker in Kentucky by March 1 who will make a campaign in behalf of the candidates for the General Assembly, who declare themselves for prohibition."

"The present situation in local option territory, where liquor selling is being permitted in spite of the vote of the people to abolish it, is an unmixed calamity from a local option standpoint, but from a state wide prohibition view, I do not know but that it is a good thing as it will stir the people up to the necessity of electing a Legislature which will enact a state wide prohibition law."

"The prospects for a state wide prohibition law at the next session are very bright, but we do not want any more local option tinkering. We have had enough of that, because none of them have been able to put a check upon the distiller, and as long as the distiller operates, the blind tiger operates."

"That the distillers encourage blind tigers and boot-leggers is evidenced by the statement of J. L. Atherton to the Model License League when he said, 'You can conceal your retailers in local option territory!' I think the use of the pronoun is very significant."

Mrs. Beauchamp said that the details of the dry campaign in support of the legislative candidates were not fully perfected but that an Oregon man named Whoertendyke would probably make the canvass in this state. He is a German of high education and an ardent prohibitionist.

OH, MY, OUCH!

Church Suppers, Sales, Plays, Etc.
Given Terrific Scoring By An Ironton Pastor.

The paper on "Church Finances," prepared by Rev. Charles E. Griffin, pastor of the First Baptist church, Ironton, read before the Ministerial Association of that city, and published in the Ironton Register, has caused much comment. Rev. Griffin takes the position that members of the churches should give as a religious duty, and that then there would not be necessity for recourse to chicken suppers, bazaars, etc.

"Church finances are often the trying problem to both pastor and people. They should not be and would not be, if perchance, both pastor and people would make an honest, conscientious effort to know what God requires of them in the getting, saving, using and giving of wealth. Many look on the providing for the running expenses of the church and offerings to missionary work as a burden to be endured, class the getting of money as begging and protest against the passing of the basket for a collection, as they call it. They have not yet learned that giving is worship; that it is religious. We fear that too much of the blame for such a conception and condition can be laid at the door of the preacher, who, through neglect, timidity, ignorance or refusal to face the question, has failed to preach the whole counsel of God. Why the lack of funds to carry on the missionary work of the church? Why the enormous debts that hang as millstones about the necks of missionary societies? Why the dishonesty, clap-trap, block and tackle methods of local churches as seen in the legions devices for raising money?

"Forgeting her true dignity and her high calling as the Bride of Christ, the church has gone into the oyster supper, chicken supper, fancy article, confectionery business, and even to such lengths as sale of old maids, fairs mock marriages, minstrel shows, plays, theatricals to make money for the support of the church.

"Fair and festival, frolics unfold, Are held in the place of prayer; And maidens, bewitching as sirens of old, With worldly graces rare, Invent the very Cunningham tricks Untremmed by gospel or laws, To beguile and amuse, and win from the world.

Some help for the righteous cause. The "House of Prayer" has been turned into literally a den of thieves; for it is a notorious fact in some sections that there is more over-charging for the good of the cause, and more religious cheating done in connection with church bazaars, than would be safe for any half respectable business firm to tolerate. People are urged to pay double prices for what they purchase, and by some strange way of counting, they reckon they have given so much to the Lord. Such devices for getting money have been justly condemned as 'beholding to the church, dishonoring to God and contemptible in the eyes of the world.' The church that relies on such methods most effectually dries up the streams of benevolence, destroys spirituality, fosters the worldly spirit and brings herself into the bondage of Satan; and is always having a hard time and troubles galore over her finances."

CONGRATULATIONS FOR SIR H. RAM. MAXIM.

London, February 5.—Sir Hiram S. Maxim, who has long ranked as one of the most noted inventors of the present age, received numerous greetings today on the occasion of his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary. Sir Hiram is in the enjoyment of excellent health and vigor for a man of his years. It is said that since the beginning of the present war the opinions expressed from time to time by Sir Hiram have received the most careful consideration in official circles, since he is regarded as a high authority not only in the matter of ordnance, but also in aeronautics and naval architecture.

As is generally known, the famous inventor is an American by birth and an Englishman by adoption. He comes from an old New England family and was born at Sangerville, Me., in 1840. Owing to the alleged unfair treatment of his patents and inventions in the line of ordinance by the United States government he took up his home in England in the early '80s, and since then has visited America only occasionally on business trips. In 1899 he became a naturalized British subject.

CONFERENCE OF "OLDER BOYS."

Wichita, Kans., February 5.—Nearly 1,000 boys, representing the Y. M. C. A., the various Sunday schools, church clubs and other organizations having as their object the training of boys for Christian service, came to Wichita today to take part in the Kansas "older boys'" conference. John L. Alexander of the International Sunday school Association; David R. Porter, international secretary of the Y. M. C. A. high school department, and several other leaders of wide reputation will be heard during the several days that the conference will continue.

FRITZIE SCHEFF

Pawned $40,000 Gems To Defraud Creditors, Says Attorney.

New York.—An affidavit filed in the bankruptcy division of the District Court declares that Fritzie Scheff before filing her insolvency petition last year pawned $40,000 worth of jewelry and turned over $14,000 worth of pawn tickets to Charles B. Dillingham, theatrical manager. This assertion is made by Milton Wolf, president of Joseph, incorporated milliners, who opposes the prima donna's discharge from bankruptcy. Joseph, incorporated, was one of the Scheff creditors. Wolf says the object of the pawning of the jewelry was to "hinder, delay and defraud creditors."

FOR SEGREGATION OF CRIMINALS

Philadelphia, Pa., February 5.—The justice of placing hardened criminals among non-criminals, of placing thieves and murderers in cells with the physically ill and vagrant men, was threshed out in the Municipal Court here today, in arguments on habeas corpus proceedings in the case of three burglars under sentence to the House of Correction. The application for the writ of habeas corpus was made by Director of Public Safety Tarter as the first step in a campaign he has undertaken to test the legality of the action of the courts in sending hardened criminals to a corrective institution instead of to the penitentiary or county prison.

In LABOR'S WORLD.

Missouri has 91,398 organized workers.

The daily wage of factory employees in Michigan last year averaged $2.41.

Blacksmiths in the mines of South Africa are paid $6 a day and work 50 hours a week.

An effort is being made to organize the employees of the subway, street car lines and elevated roads in New York City.

A measure has been introduced in the Iowa Legislature providing for an eight-hour day for laborers on state and public works.

A bill stipulating that no woman shall be employed in any mercantile or manufacturing establishment more than 54 hours a week is pending in the Minnesota Legislature.

Alaska has an eight hour law applying to labor on all public works, and in all mines and workings, smelting and reduction works, blast furnaces, rolling mills, etc., in the territory.

From a beginning in the Pacific northwest the Western Labor Press Association during the past year has extended its membership to include the leading labor journals as far east as the Mississippi river.

Manufacturers of Essen, Germany, have spent a quarter of a million dollars on the erection of buildings in one suburban district alone for the purpose of housing their operatives in comfortable homes.

More than half a million dollars were paid to aged and infirm former employees in the steel industry during 1914, according to the fourth annual report of the United States Steel and Carnegie Pension Fund.

After an investigation extending over a period of 15 months the Michigan minimum wage commission has made a report urging the passage of a minimum wage law for women and the appointment of a permanent commission to direct its working.

A bill creating a state industrial commission and prescribing a system of employees' compensation, eliminating the theories of contributory negligence and negligence of fellow servants, is pending in the Colorado Legislature. The measure has the indorsement of Governor Carlson.

The American Federation of Labor now embraces 110 national and international unions, representing approximately 22,000 local unions, 5 departments, 43 state branches, 638 city central unions, and 558 local unions. The approximate paid membership now exceeds 2,000,000 workers.

A strike of 15,000 carpenters in Chicago is threatened for April 1, unless a new wage agreement is agreed upon before that time. At present the carpenters and contractors are at a deadlock. The carpenters are asking for an increase of 5 cents an hour. They now receive 65 cents. The yells ask that a clause providing that any kind of manufactured material can be used except that prison-made goods be eliminated from the proposed contract.

BELGIUM TO BE MODEL IN TOWN PLANNING.

London.—Complete arrangements are being made in London for providing facilities to enable a number of Belgian architects and surveyors to meet and discuss methods of replanning their country when the war is over.

It is recognized that Belgium will have a unique opportunity of replanning its country on real town-planning lines, and the hope is expressed that a scheme may be evolved which will serve as a model to the more enlightened countries that are now earnestly taking up this subject.

TOBACCO TRUST

Break-Up Has Not Helped Farmers—
Says Lucien Beckner, Secretary of New Growers' Organization.

(Lexington Leader.)

Hundreds of Kentucky farmers have sold their tobacco crop, which means a year's tenure of a valuable farm, and a year's labor, and have not enough money to pay their debts, or buy enough coal to last them through the winter."

This was one of the statements made by Lucien Beckner, secretary of the new Tobacco Growers' Movement, to the Members' Council of the Board of Commerce today at noon, in explaining the present movement for the organization of farmers in the white burley district.

"The dissolution of the tobacco trust has not benefited the farmer," said Mr. Beckner. "The form of the dissolution was such that the several constituent companies are manufacturing different kinds and different grades of manufactured tobaccos, one company making the plug chewing, another the fancy smoking grades, another cigarettes, and so on.

"The result is that in the market none of the buyers for these several companies have any occasion to bid against the other.

"Whether it is a fact or not, the farmer thinks it is a fact that there is but one buyer, who fixes the price, and observation indicates that this is true."

Mr. Beckner then went on to say that the farmers had several courses which they might pursue. He spoke of relief by better methods of marketing, by an appeal to the law, and by organization, but noted that pooling was no longer acceptable to the courts.

If the law can not be invoked for the relief of the farmers, they are thrown on their own resources and must either reduce the acreage, or cut out the crop entirely. The latter is a last resort, and we realize it can not be accomplished except by violence, bloodshed and lawlessness, so we have organized in an effort to find some other way for better conditions.

We believe that the question is one which should command the interest of every business and professional man as well as every farmer in the state, if for no other reason that its effect upon our own pocketbook. Two hundred million pounds of tobacco were sold a year ago at an average price of 15 cents. This year the average price is nearer 8 cents, a loss to the state of $16,000,000. This is not merely a loss to the farmer but to every man with whom the farmer trades."

Other Speakers At Members' Council.

Rev. J. E. Thacker was invited to address the council, and made a few pleasant remarks. George A. Bain called attention to the coming horse sales and said that the presence of the business men at the sales would have a valuable effect upon the market, even though they were not there to buy.

There was a short general discussion of Board of Commerce affairs and the meeting adjourned.

PRZEMYSŁ

AT POINT OF STARVATION AND GERMANS WILL RUSH TO ITS RELIEF.

Belgians Again Being Hammered By the Kaiser's Forces.

London, February 4.—The remnants of the Belgian troops which are still defending the little strip of their fatherland not in possession of the Germans, once more are bearing the brunt of the fighting in the west.

Official reports from Amsterdam state that the Germans are again making an attack along the Yser.

The second great sin is the doubtful sin, as condemned in Romans 14:23. "But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat because he eateth not of faith, and whatsoever is not of faith is sin."

Miss Davies emphasized the thought that the eyes of the church have generally been blinded to doubtful things, and that the only safe course was to avoid any actions, associations or worldly pleasures concerning which any doubt existed.

The supreme test is to determine your life and conscience to Christ that you may be able to avoid the doubtful sins.

The respectable sins are generally accepted in the eyes of the world, but in the eyes of God there can be no respectable sinners. Any and all sin bars mankind from God, for "the prayers of the sinners are an abomination in His sight," and He will not hear their plea; sin soon writes its character indelibly on the face for one becomes like that with which he associates; sin also hardens and deceives so that the sinner smiles when the question of salvation is presented to him.

Other sins are the presumptuous sins, by which one says complacently, "I'm a Christian, so no matter what I do, God will take care of me." There are the many secret sins, the little sins of which we are hardly aware. The besetting sins—or, as they have been well termed—the upsetting sins, are those of temper, gossip, backbiting, etc., the ones for which all try to excuse themselves. The covetous sins—the love of money—are those which too frequently dominate business life, making the most prevalent disease of today, "the yellow fever." Then there are also the sins of the tongue which include profanity, lying, obscene stories, etc.; the sins of broken vows, those which people in trouble make to God if He will help them, and which they forget as soon as the troubles are past; the hidden sins, the covered ones, not spoken of in polite society, which are stealing purity from the hearts of mankind.

In conclusion, Miss Davies summed up the outcome of a life of sin by "What is the fate of the sinner? He shall die!" "for the wages of sin is death, and 'the soul that sinneth, it shall die,'" and urged her hearers to believe in God's promises and saving grace and to accept Jesus Christ as their Savior that He might redeem them from all sin and unrighteousness.

It is against the law of God resolved itself into several great classes, perhaps the most common and least noted being that of the sin of omission. Such sins are mentioned in James 4:17, "To him therefore, that knoweth to do good, and doth it not, to him it is great sin."

The greatest sin of omission is the failure to acknowledge Christ as one's personal Savior, and to make Him the center of one's life.

The second great sin is the doubtful sin, as condemned in Romans 14:23. "But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat because he eateth not of faith, and whatsoever is not of faith is sin."

Miss Davies emphasized the thought that the eyes of the church have generally been blinded to doubtful things, and that the only safe course was to avoid any actions, associations or worldly pleasures concerning which any doubt existed.
